

Racial Equity Research Grants

The Spencer foundation(US)

The Racial Equity Research Grants program supports education research projects that will contribute to understanding and disrupting racial inequality in education and work to reimagine generative possibilities to advance educational equity. They are interested in funding studies that aim to understand and disrupt the reproduction and deepening of inequality in education, and which seek to (re)imagine and make new forms of equitable education. Thus, interested in research projects that seek to envision educational opportunities in a multiplicity of education systems, levels, settings, and developmental ranges and that reach beyond documenting conditions and paradigms that contribute to persistent racial inequalities. The goal of this program is to support rigorous, intellectually ambitious, and technically sound research that is relevant to the most pressing questions and compelling opportunities about racial equity in education. In this cycle of funding, they will continue to fund scholarships focused on a range of communities and issues concerning equity. They encourage proposals from across the methodological spectrum, including qualitative methods, mixed methods, and quantitative methods. They especially encourage proposals that utilize QuantCrit methods, social network analysis, geo-spatial mapping, and other quantitative methods that use critical lenses. They will accept applications for projects ranging from one to five years with budgets up to $75,000.
